Landscape Design Concept

The landscape design of the central public park is seamlessly connected to the overall image of the project's entrance, creating a lush and refreshing atmosphere. The deep green of the foliage, along with trees that have distinctive character, is perfectly interspersed with the vibrant colors of tropical rainforest flowers.

The park's most prominent feature is the pavilion, which stands out visibly from the entrance. The pavilion is designed to match the architectural style of the houses, with an oversized gable roof to signify its public nature and serve as a landmark for the project.

In addition to this distinctive design, the pavilion is made even more special with the use of striking natural stone for a large feature wall. This stone, specifically chosen from Italy, was selected to match the project's theme, "Sense of Wood." The patterns and colors of the stone evoke the texture and rings of tree bark, reinforcing the connection to nature.

Landscape Design Concept

Sense of Wood

The design of the project's landscape entrance creates an atmosphere that incorporates the unique identity of Phuket's tropical rainforest climate, characterized by its distinct flora. The raw imagery of local timber shapes and exotic plants with unusual forms is blended with the contemporary simplicity of architecture, resulting in a calm and relaxing environment that still retains an element of intrigue.

Landscape Design Concept

The landscape design of the Pool Villa features an area surrounded by exotic plants with unusual forms, blended with local flora that evokes the atmosphere of Phuket.

This creates an awareness of the local landscape and a unique identity, fostering a sense of relaxation with the refreshing green hues visible from every corner of the house. No matter the angle, the views of the greenery provide a soothing and invigorating ambiance.

The design incorporates a swimming pool as the centerpiece of the Pool Villa, creating a unique view for each house. This design ensures privacy while maintaining a harmonious connection with the resort-like natural surroundings.

STORY ONE - BANGJO

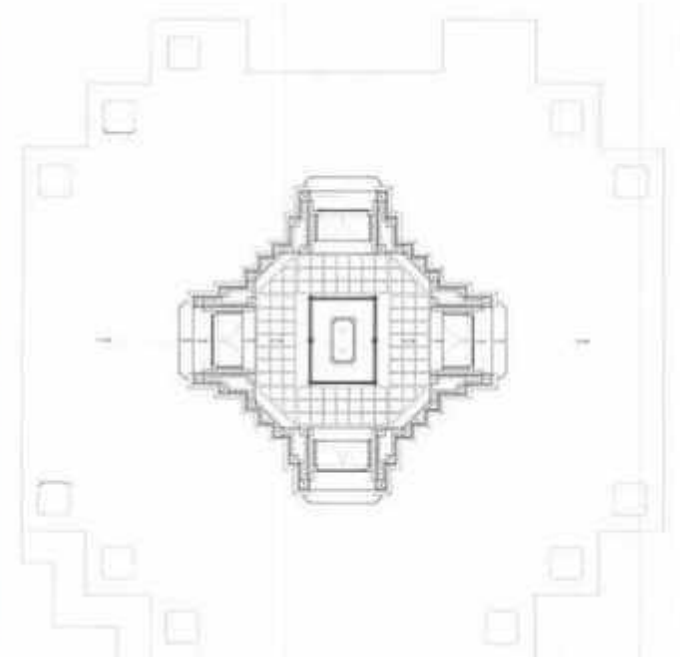

Design Concept

LAYER IN NATURE

LAYER IN ARCHITECTURE

THAI ELEMENT

LAYER IN NATURE + LAYER IN ARCHITECTURE + THAI ELEMENT

The inspiration for the architecture comes from the meaningful layering found in both nature and Thai architecture. The layers of waves crashing in with varying heights and the different absorption of water by the sand. The layers in Thai architecture, which feature tiered levels and beveled corners, create a unique identity.

Design Realization aims to take familiar elements and transform them into architecture that is not alien, reflecting the context of the designed area.

COLOR OF NATURE

COLOR OF NATURE + TROPICAL + SIMPLICITY

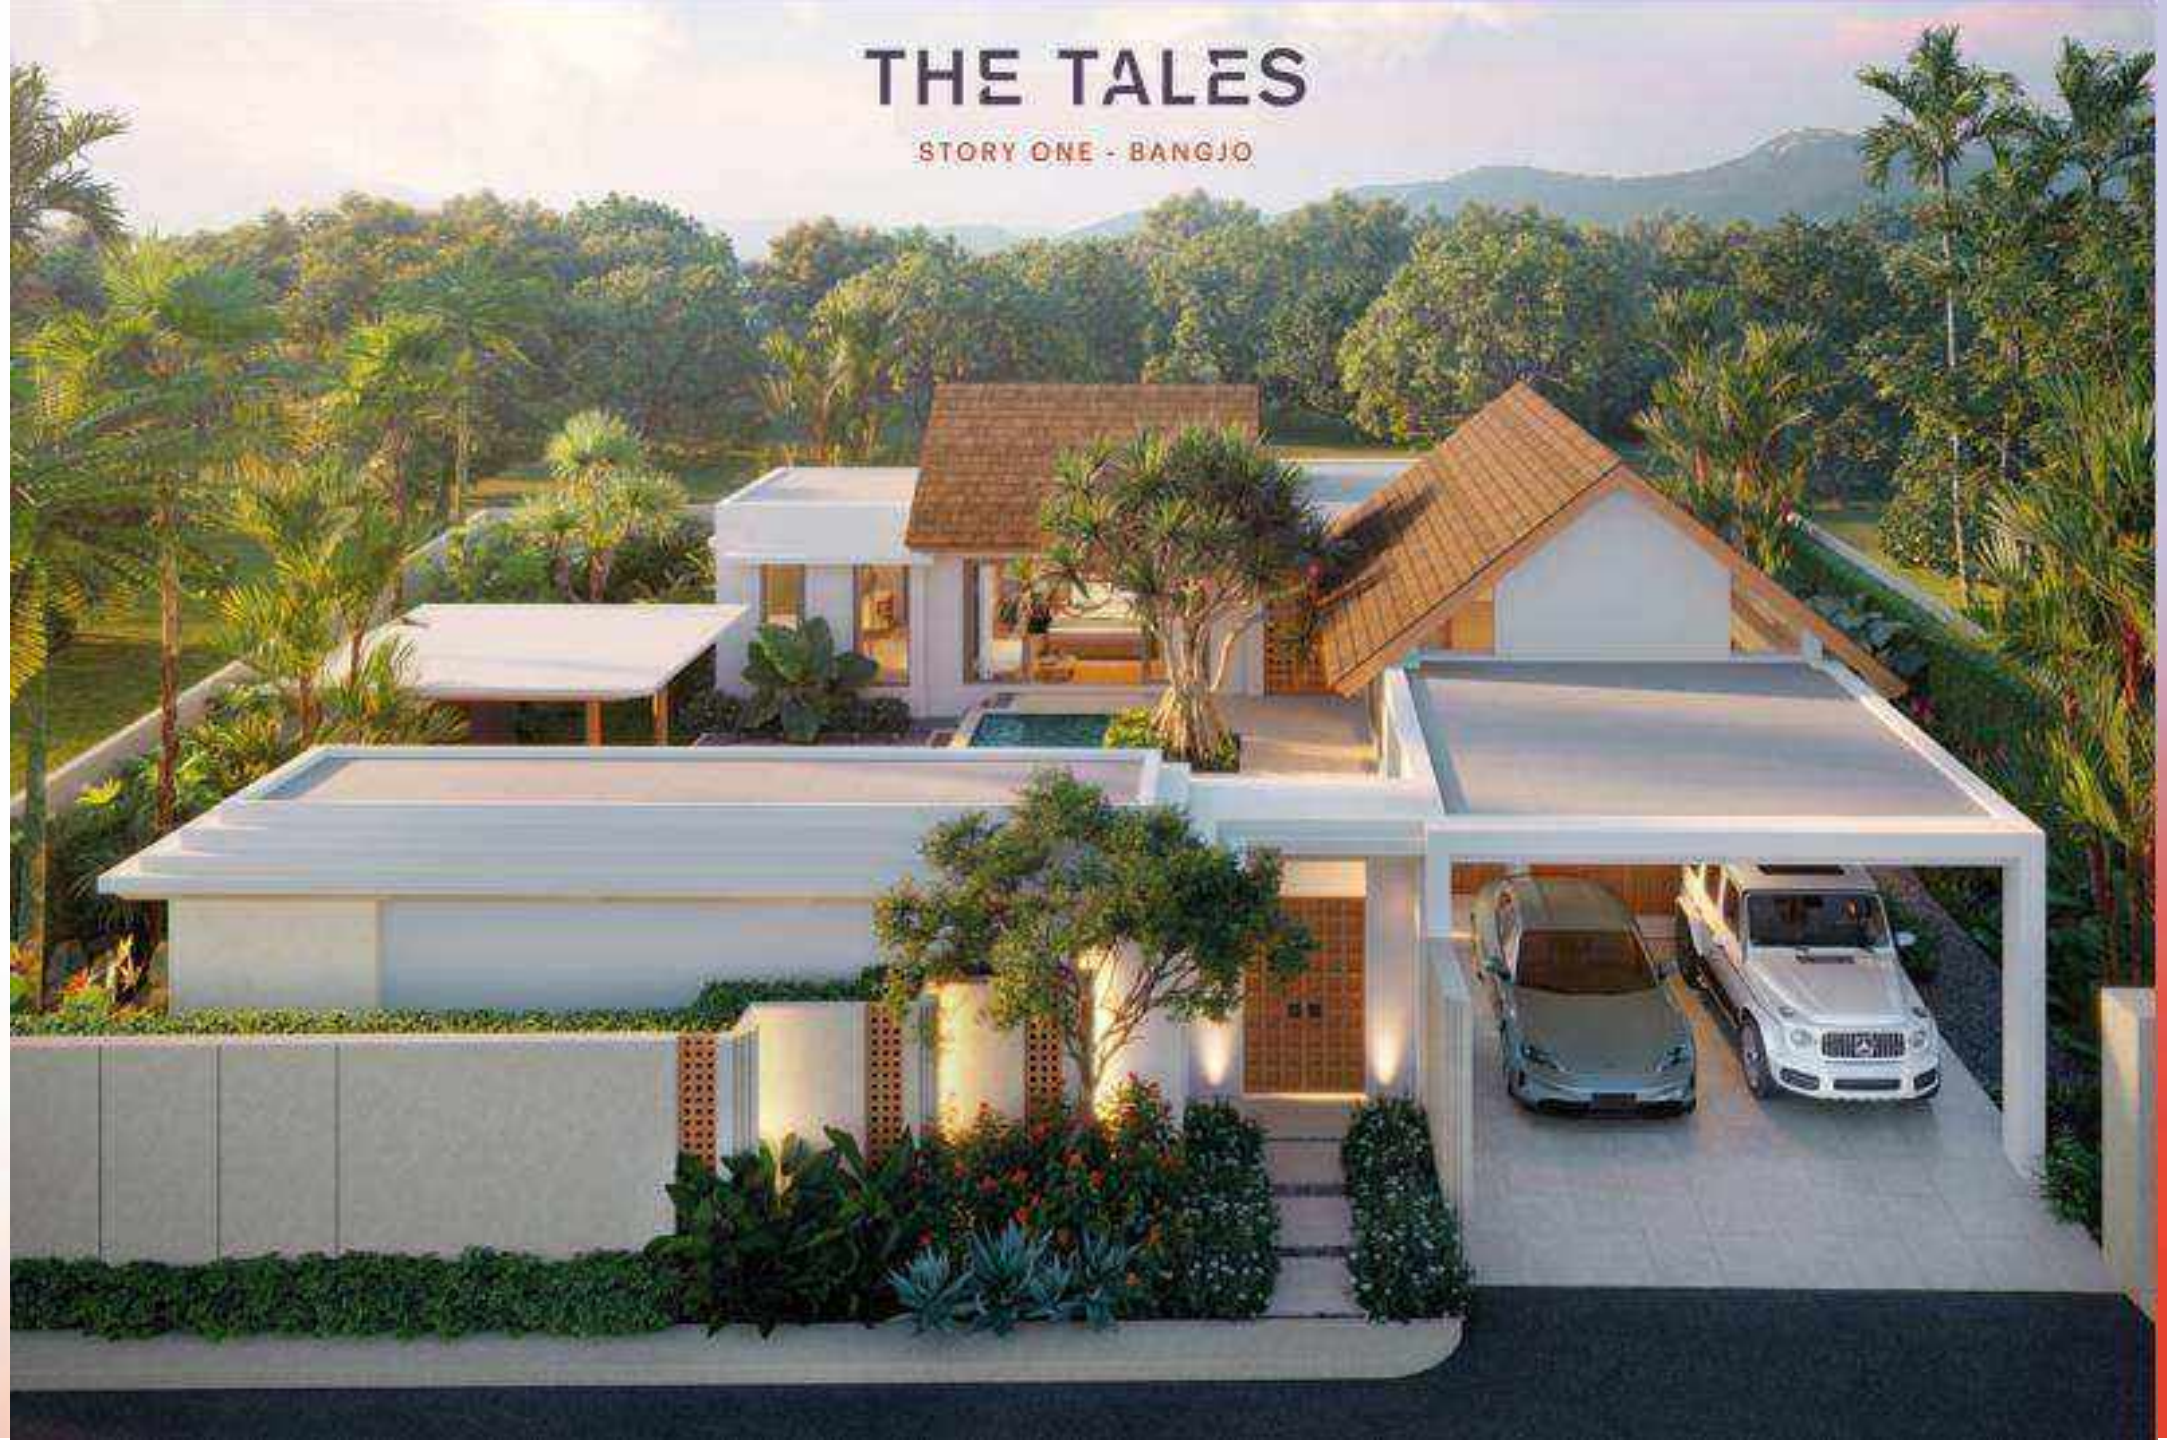

Materials that reflect a natural essence, sourced locally, are key factors in the selection process. The tropical character, unique to the location, is expressed through a new perspective that promotes simplicity, reflected in straightforward lines while incorporating details that create refinement in every viewpoint.
